Every Congressional district in the State, except the Eighth, will have a prohibition candidate.

Ex-Secretary of the State Hans B. Warner, will represent his county in the next Senate. There is no office within the gift of the people of Wisconsin that Mr. Warner does not fully deserve.

There is only one man in the United States that is able to carry a whole party of one State in his pocket, and that is Ben Butler. He has got the Democratic party of Massachusetts right in his wallet.

It is said that William H. Vanderbilt, Pierre Lorillard, and Miss Catherine DeWolf, three of the wealthiest people, perhaps, in the United States, have adjoining pews in All Saints' Chapel, in Newport.

The State Journal says there is no truth whatever in the statement that the Republican State Committee will be ultimately obliged to extend recognition to one or the other of the contestent, in case a copromise cannot be effected.

The Racine News in mentioning the call for a Mass Convention to be held at Delavan next Monday, says: "The storm cloud of indignation has at last broken, and sweeps o'er the entire First Congressional district of Wisconsin." The News evidently feels better now.

The Greenbackers of Colorado have nominated a woman for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. It is not surprising that the Greenbackers will nominate a person for a State office, but it is surprising that a woman could be found in Colorado who would so far forget herself as to accept a nomination so devoid of honor.

The Democrats of Rock county seem to be in no particular hurry about calling a convention to nominate a candidate for State Senator. The fact is they do not know which way to turn. It is a question which would be the best, endorse the nomination of Mr. Lawrence or take up a new man. He has been with the Democrats some little time in spirit, but whether they can make so laughable a move as to endorse a Prohibitionist, is a serious question. With a glimmer of hope that an endorsement of him may possibly defeat Lord, they may be willing to accept the situation, but the end will bring them nothing but disappointment.

The North American Review for October, is a very interesting number. It contains an article on "The Coming Revolution in England," by H. M. Hyndman, the English radical leader, giving an instructive account of the agitation now going on among the English working classess. "The Objectionable in Literature," by O. B. Frothingham. "Discoveries at Troy," by Dr. Henry Schliemann. Senator John I. Mitchell treats of the rise and progress of the rule of "Political Bosses. Professor George L. Vose, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology contributes an article on "Safety in Railway Travel" and Professor Charles S. Sargent, of the Harvard College, an instructive essay on "The Protection of Forests."

Those who read the article in the October number of the North American Review on the subject of railway travel will be surprised and interested to learn that of the 365,000,000, perons carried last year only 460 were killed and 1,800 injured more or less severely, and of these numbers, 800 of those injured and 200 of those killed may be chargeable to causes for which the railway companies are to a greater and less degree responsible, while the rest of the casualties are due to the carelessness of the passengers themselves. From these figures it will be seen that for every railway passenger who is killed in the United States, over 800,000 are safely carried. This is a remarkable showing and speaks volumes for the excellent management of the railways, and demonstrates that the safest system of travel in the world is on trains thundering along at the rate of from 25 to 50 miles an hour.

ABOUT THROWING CAMPAIGN MUD.

The other day when they talked of disclosing the record of Mr. D. H. Sumner, of Waukesha, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Second district, the Evening Wisconsin advised the Republicans to leave that work to the Democrats who were opposed to Sumner, and have nothing to do with it. This is the right sentiment. Throwing mud may be pleasant business for the Democrats, but it ill-becomes any respectable journal to engage in that kind of dirty work. There is plenty to say against Democratic candidates and Democratic measures, without opening mud batteries and bespattering the nominees with slime; and there is enough to say in favor of Republican candidates without sacrificing manhood and becoming indecent and harshly personal in political warfare. The Prohibitionists have nominated some honorable men for office, and the Democrats have put some respectable and worthy citizens on their tickets, but these can be opposed and the Republicans energetically supported without indulging in personal attacks which lower the attacking parties and does not advance the interests of their own candidates. The Gazette take the opportunity to say this much at the outset in the campaign so that its course may be fairly understood. While giving every Republican candidate thorough support, it will leave the responsibility of raking up records, hurling darts of malice, and pitching mud, with those who take delight in that kind of business.

SOME FIGURES FOR ALARMISTS.

We have received from the census office an official bulletin giving the nativities of the United States as shown by the census of 1880. Those who have been howling about the rush of Chinese to this country and crying down "Chinese cheap labor" will be surprised to learn that in 1880 there were only 104,541 Chinese scattered through the United States. The people have been led to believe that they numbered hundreds of thousands and that they were materially interfering with the white labor of this country.

There is another thing brought to public notice by the recent census which will astonish and silence those who have been alarmed at the great immigration of foreigners to this country. Many people have been made to believe that the native population of the United States is being "snowed under" by the increasing arrivals of foreigners. But what are the facts? The native population amounts, in round numbers, to 43,000,000, while the entire foreign population does not reach 7,000,000. Of this total, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland furnished the largest quota or 2,772,109, while the German Empire follows with 1,966,042. The next highest on the list is British America, which furnishes 717,084. Sweeden stands fourth in the list with 194,337, and Norway follows closely with 181,729. France furnishes 106,971; China, 104,551; Switzerland, 88,621; Bohemia, 85,361; Mexico, 68,399; Denmark, 64,196; Holland, 58,000; Poland, 48,557; Italy, 44,230; Austria, 38,663; and Russia, 35,722.

These figures which are interesting and reliable, will serve to allay the feeling of certain alarmists, who imagine that the United States will soon be controlled by foreigners; and will also show them that there is no immediate danger that the white labor of this country will be crushed by the Chinese.

THE CONDITION OF THINGS IN THE FIRST DISTRICT.

There is evidently going to be a fight in the First Congressional district, and it will not be a very tame affair, judging by the bad blood and bitter feeling that begins to show themselves on both sides. When the mass convention is held at Delavan on Tuesday, and the Democrats get through with their work at Elkhorn on the day following, the campaign will be fairly opened, and what is generally called music in a canvass will be heard all along the line. It promises to be a time when personal animosities will get away with argument, and when hatred, jealously, and malice, will take the place of fair play and honorable warefare.

While there can be no doubt as to the result of the Congressional campaign, there are three parties in the district, and two factions in the Republican party. With these the Republicans must contend fairly, wisely, and firmly. They must not rest satisfied with the assuring fact that their candidates will run in anyway, but they should take that course which will give the Republican candidates the greatest leverage on public confidence and secure them the most substantial victory. Those who expect to aid their party in this contest by pouncing upon the opposition candidates—and this applies to either side—will learn when the campaign is over that they did not build the best they could.

The duty of the Republicans of the First district is plain and simple. They should be guided by a spirit of common sense In the midst of factious bickerings and personal quarrels, they should remain steady supporters of the Republican ticket, and remember that the success of Republicanism is of more importance than the advancement of the personal ends of any candidate no matter who he may be.

It is the duty of Old Rock to stand firm in the line of solid Republican counties—not to waiver nor in anywise falter in the coming campaign.

Unworthy Influence.

Many persons are prejudiced against proprietary medicines. They do not know why. Many narrow-minded doctors condemn them without knowing or caring to know in the least about them—solely through principle and self-interest. These are mostly young and inexperienced in practice. "Prejudice is strong where the judgment is weak." Many physicians, with better and more liberal ideas and education, endorse those remedies which they find most efficacious for the diseases for which they are recommended. One of these, strongly endorsed, and coming into popular use, for the Liver and Dyspepsia, is ZOPESA. 8 oz. bottles 75c, 6 dr. 10c. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

NEW YORK.

Grover Cleveland Nominated for Governor by the Democrats.

John Kelly Leads the Stampede to Cleveland,

And the Convention at Once Becomes the Scene of the Wildest Confusion and Uproar.

The Chairman Loses All Control, and Riot Reigns Supreme.

Measures of Harmony Adopted---Equitable Division of the Contesting Delegations.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The Tammany delegates filed into the hall, and were received with cheers and a few hisses. The convention was called to order, and the chairman of the committee on contested seats reported that the committee recognized the county Democracy as the regular delegation from New York city, and with a view to the success of the party at the polls, and for the purpose of securing entire harmony, they recommended that the New York city representation be divided as follows: County Democracy, 38 members; Tammany, 21; Irving hall, 10. The report was unanimously adopted amid vociferous applause.

A resolution from the state committee was adopted recommending that in the future all primary elections shall be held by election districts for the election of delegates to the convention in the city of New York, under the auspices and direction of the state committee, until such time as the various factions in that city may agree as to the proper mode of electing delegates. The committee on permanent organization reported for permanent chairman Lester B. Faulkner, who said on taking the chair, that neither of the last two Democratic governors used their office for enriching themselves, or for a questionable purpose of any nature. What is the record of the Republican administration in this state? Republicans have squandered millions, have filled the public offices with men whose aim is not to render efficient public service, but to use power for perpetuating the Republican party.

After the address of President Faulkner General Grier presented the platform, which arraigns the Republican majority in congress for failing to reduce taxation, and favors such tariff as shall best serve the interests of all classes. It condemns the river and harbor bill, and declares that in nominating the secretary of the treasury for governor that we see the alarming power of the government to control state elections;" hold the Republican administration responsible for unredressed wrongs upon our foreign-born citizens; charges the Republican party in the state with having refused to renominate its governor because he dared to use the veto power against the demands of the dangerous monied element of the state; favors the local self-government of cities; favors the passage of general laws providing for security against frauds at elections; declaring that all monopolies and corporations should be held subject to the laws of the states, and that corporate property should pay a fair proportion of public burdens. It supports the constitutional amendments in favor of free canals; reaffirms the policy of the Democracy that labor shall be held free, and condemns convict labor; declares that labor shall have the same right as capital to combine for its own protection, and declares that the government, state and nation should be restored to the condition it was in during the primitive days of the republic.

John Kelly, in a speech, moved that the platform be referred back to the committee for the insertion of a plank condemning the enormous grants of public lands to private corporations. Adopted. The list of delegates as agreed upon from New York city were then added to the roll.

The convention went into nominations for governor, and the names of Erastus Corning, Homer A. Nelson, Grover Cleveland, R. P. Flower, Gen. H. W. Slocum, Allen Campbell and Perry Belmont were presented. Gen. Pryor, of the committee on resolutions, said that he was instructed to report the following additional plank in the platform and moved its incorporation therein:

"We also arraign the Republican party for its wholesale gifts of public lands to railroad jobbers, thus robbing the mass of the people of their rightful inheritance, and we demand, so far as possible, their lands shall be reclaimed and reserved for occupation by actual settlers, and we request the Democratic members in congress from the state of New York to use their power to secure this great blessing."

The first ballot resulted: Slocum 98, Cleveland 76, Flower 87, Nelson 20, Corning 35, Belmont 12, Campbell, 37, Hutchins, 13—total, 388. Necessary to a choice 195. The clerk again proceeded to call the roll. Tammany delegates divided their votes as follows: Slocum, Flower and Corning, 6 each; Cleveland 5, and Hutchins 1. John Kelly voted for Corning.

On the second ballot Corning was dropped. The vote was: Slocum, 123; Cleveland, 71; Flower, 123; Nelson, 15; Belmont, 16; Campbell, 33; Hutchins, 10. No choice. Kelly voted for Cleveland.

A stampede then commenced for Cleveland. The entire Tammany delegation voted for him, and various delegations asked to change their votes. The floor of the convention hall was full of delegates standing in their seats and aisles, desirous of being recorded for Cleveland. The scene baffled description. A voice called for the unanimous nomination of Cleveland. The Kings county delegation attempted to stem the tide by having their names called again and voting solid for Slocum.

3:45 p. m.—As the roll now stands, Cleveland has over 200, Flower about 100, and Slocum about 80. Cleveland has now more than enough to secure nomination. The Slocum men are securing some changes in favor of their candidate, and are calling strenuously for another call of the roll.

Senator Jacobs took the floor, and said any result attained in this way would not give satisfaction. He therefore moved a new roll call.

A number of angry delegates instantly moved up in front of the platform, and the convention was taken out of the control of the chairman. Some cried, "Roll call," others "Announce the vote," and not a few, in violent language, demanded they be given their rights without indicating at all wherein they were wronged. Such a scene has not been often witnessed, and for a time it was doubtful what would be the end.

Chairman Faulkner declared he was unable to proceed. He attempted to speak several times, but could not make himself heard. During the lull in the storm he was able to put Senator Jacobs's motion for a new roll call, and declared the motion lost on a viva voce vote. On this, a call of the roll was demanded, and the secretary proceeded to call the names of the delegates, announcing at the same time that it was for the purpose of deciding whether or not a new ballot should be taken before the announcement of the third ballot. After some time it became evident that the vote would be almost entirely in the affirmative and a motion to declare Senator Jacob's motion adopted was carried. The secretary then proceeded to call the roll again. There will be no announcement of the third ballot.

4 p. m.—Grover Cleveland, mayor of Buffalo, was nominated for governor.

The ticket as completed is as follows: Lieutenant governor, David B. Hill, mayor of Elmira; congressman at large, Gen. Henry W. Slocum; judge of the court of appeals, William C. Ruger.

During the session to-night a dispute arose between Anthony Barrett, of Brooklyn, and General Pryor, which resulted in Pryor striking Barrett. The combatants were quickly separted.

BUFFALO, Sept. 22.—Buffalo is crazy with delight to-night over the nomination of Mayor Grover Cleveland for governor. It was not expected. Cleveland himself didn't look for it. He said to The Times correspondent this morning: "I don't think the old Democratic wheel horses of the east will allow the nomination to the first office of the state to come so far west as Buffalo, for they feel that if it does, and success follows, their ancient grip on the party is forever gone." When the break did come on the third ballot this afternoon the streets resounded with cheers. There was a sickening revulsion of feeling for a while when it was announced that there was a fight over the roll, but when the fifth ballot was announced and the confirmation of the nomination was placed beyond doubt, the town became wild. The mayor was in his office at the city hall when the news arrived, and took things very quietly. He is a man given to little expression of feeling, and almost the only sign he showed was when guns of the 7th battery began to thunder a national salute. The nomination is a terrible blow to the Stalwarts, who look upon it as a signal for a reasonable bolt on the part of the independents. The Buffalo Express will support Cleveland, and already it is given out by leading independents that they will follow him. His election over Folger is looked upon as certain, and already his enthusiastic supporters are talking of him for president in 1884.

BUFFALO, Sept. 23.—The Democratic club repaired, after a parade of the city last night, to headquarters where Mayor Cleveland, in answer to loud calls spoke as follows:

"MY FRIENDS: I am sure there will be nothing for me to do in the campaign which we have just entered upon, which will so appeal to my feelings and about which I will have to take so much care as in addressing you this evening, and I must be careful of what I say, or recollections of the past and the appreciation of your esteem will quite overcome me. I can not but remember to-night the time when I came into your midst friendless, unknown and poor. I can not but remember how, step by step, by the encouragement of my good fellow citizens, I have gone on to receive more of their appreciation than is my due, until I have been honored with more distinction perhaps than I deserve. The position of mayor of this great and proud city ought to be enough to satisfy the most ambitious. The position of mayor, backed and supported as it is by every good citizen I am sure should satisfy any man, and it would seem almost grasping to wish for higher honors. The promise of the future that is before me, if fully realized, is somewhat saddened and dimmed by the reflection that if carried out, I shall have to leave my good friends of Buffalo to enter upon another sphere of action. Bear in mind, gentlemen, that whatever may come in the future the people of Buffalo and all their kindness to me will have a place in my grateful heart. The event of to-day, gentlemen, is an event which appeals to the local pride of us all, and I should be too vain to live with, too vain to be of any comfort to my friends, if I did not fully appreciate the fact that this splendid ovation is not altogether on account of personal preference. You are here to support a cause—a great cause, and while you may fully appreciate that a fellow-citizen of yours is to bear aloft the banner of Democracy in this campaign, you are to remember that he is the standard-bearer in a cause that is dear to the people and in which all their interests are involved. You are to support me because you struggle for a principle—a holy principle—a principle the ascendency of which will bring happiness, peace and prosperity to the people."

SKETCH OF THE NOMINEE.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Mr. Cleveland is the mayor of this city. He is a handsome bachelor of 45, and has stood at the head of the bar of this county for several years. His extreme local popularity comes from the courageous manner in which he has vetoed a number of corrupt or extravagant common council bills. He has become known as the "veto mayor." His preliminary canvass was admirably managed, about fifty Grover Cleveland clubs having been organized in his congressional district within the past six weeks. Beyond the limits of Buffalo Mr. Cleveland won friends by his advocacy of free canals and a restoration of harmony in the ranks of New York Democrats. He has all along advised just such an agreement as was finally reached at Syracuse with reference to the admission of Tammany and Irving halls. Upon this score his position becomes of national interest, as all thinking men admit that the unification of the Democrats in the empire state will have great significance in the next presidential struggle. As a practical reformer, a free canal advocate, and one of the peace-makers in the Democratic camp, Mr. Cleveland is already a politician of national prominence. He has an immense advantage here in the bitter quarrel between the Half-breed and Stalwart newspapers and their respective factions. Republicans were numerous in the Cleveland clubs organized during the summer, and it is claimed that he will draw a great many votes from the opposition. His majority in the county is impartially estimated at 15,000, although, as a rule, the county has gone Republican. The only newspaper opposing him is The Commercial Advertiser, which is the administration organ. The Express (Half-breed) has boited Folger and will yield a tacit, if not active support, to the Democratic nominee. The Sunday News and Sunday Times, independent journals, have been ardent champions from the outset, together with The Daily Courier, the "Democratic organ," and The Evening News and Evening Telegraph, the first of which is Republican and the latter independent. The German press is equally enthusiastic in his behalf.

Mr. Cleveland was born in Caldwell, Essex county, N. J., March 18, 1837. Many of his ancestors were preachers. Aaron Cleveland, his great-grandfather, was a Congregational minister of Norwich, Conn. A great-uncle of Mayor Cleveland was for many years a city missionary in Boston, and the mayor's father, Richard Cleveland, was born at Norwich. Soon after his marriage he settled in New Jersey as a pastor, and was following this vocation when Grover was born. The Rev. Samuel H. Goxe, a distinguished Presbyterian clergyman of New York city, and the father of the Rt. Rev. Dr. A. Cleveland Coxe, married a sister of Grover's grandfather, thereby bringing two more divines into the family, and making the mayor a second cousin of the Episcopal bishop of western New York.

Wheeling Iron-Workers.

WHEELING, W. VA., Sept. 23.—The mill-owners and a committee of the Amalgamated association met last night and held a conference on the changed situation of the strike. No discussion was indulged in, and the meeting did not last half an hour. The spokesman of the manufactures had resolved not to resume until the workmen would go on at Pittsburg prices in all departments without an advance of any kind. The workingmen's committee reported that they would not do that, when the chairman said he supposed all had their minds made up, and there was no use of further discussion. Vice President Thompson, of the Amalgamated association, moved to adjourn, which prevailed. Workmen from here are seeking employment in the mills about to start elsewhere in large numbers. It is said forty or fifty men have already gone.

Sly Milliners.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Six milliners of this city arrived home by the steamship France. A hint having been received by cable, the customs detectives found on the person of one woman silks and laces valued at 1,225 francs, while another carried dutiable goods to the amount of 3,600 francs.

The huge, drastic, griping, sickening pills are fast being superseded by Dr. Pierce's "Purgative Pellets." Sold by druggists.

THE CROPS.

Severe Injuries to the Corn by Thursday's Frigid Visitation Reported in Illinois.

The Frosts in Minnesota and Iowa Not Injurious to Any Extent.

Kentucky Tobacco-growers Fearful of Bad Results if Cold Weather Continues.

ILLINOIS.

DIXON, Ill., Sept. 20.—A severe frost visited this section Thursday night, and, as far as your correspondent can learn, has badly injured the corn. No matter what kind of weather may come from this date, the corn will be shriveled and soft. Responsible farmers of Lee county, the best in the world, say we will not have half a crop.

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 23.—There was a heavy frost in this section Thursday night, extending throughout the entire county. Comparatively little corn was considered safe, and farmers report that the damage was severe and general.

CLINTON, Ill., Sept. 23.—An exceedingly heavy frost prevailed in central Illinois Thursday night. In DeWitt county it was very heavy, and it is thought it did considerable damage. Farmers think it has injured the corn crop, which has not fully matured.

MONMOUTH, Ill., Sept. 23.—Thursday and Friday mornings a light frost was visible on the low ground, but did no damage to vegetation.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 23.—Frost fell all over this section Thursday night, the first of the season, but effected no damage.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 23.—Reports received to night from McLean and adjoining counties state that the frost of Thursday night, the first of the season, has done no damage whatever to corn. The early ripening of the crop, partly due to drain tiling, had done wonderful work in maturing the crop.

MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 23.—Reports from all railroad lines leading out of the city report more or less frost for the past two nights. Corn generally is reported ahhipured, except in low, swampy grounds, and even then the damage is but slight. The weather remains correspondingly cold along all the lines, but the crop is so far advanced as to be beyond danger. The estimated yield is very high, being placed at from forty to sixty bushels per acre. Some even go so far as to predict an average of of eighty bushels in the lower portion of the state.

IOWA.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Sept. 23.—The weather has been cold and threatening for the past two days, but no damage is reported from frost. Reports from various parts of the state are of the same tenor. The corn is untouched, and in any event is almost out of danger. The weather yesterday was decidedly warmer.

KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.—The Gazette's Lexington, Ky., special reports a slight frost last Thursday night, which will damage tobacco.

Miss Emma Bond Dying.

BLUE MOUND, Ill., Sept. 23.—Emma Bond is dying, and her end cannot be a week distant. For two months she has been better one day and worse the next, until at last she is worn out and unable to rally. Col. Abner D. Bond, her father, is little better than a madman, his terrible grief having fractured a mind strong above the average. Added to the misfortunes of his daughter are financial troubles of a most distressing sort, and it is doubted, with all his late expenses piled upon the mortgages, if he is worth a dollar to-day. If he ever had a doubt of the guilt of Montgomery, Pettis, Clements, and Dr. Vermillion, it has long since been dispelled. Preparations are being secretly made to hang the four accused at the first opportunity. The Tower Hill vigilance committee will take entire control of the next hanging, and thus avoid a repetition of the scenes at Taylorville. Vermillion is in the Christian county jail, glad to remain there, and the others, out on bail, are being closely watched. The country all about is aroused, and something desperate is expected within a few days. It is feared Mr. Bond will attack the accused and receive his death, or that he will go stark mad. This morning Miss Bond was in great agony, afflicted with spasms, and the united strength of four people was necessary to hold her in bed. She may die to-night.

Death of a Bank President.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Mr. Comstock, president of the Citizens' national bank, died yesterday of apoplexy.

The Markets.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The receipts of wheat were liberal, the European reports quoted prices dull and lower, and the eastern markets were in a similar position; these influences had a depressing effect on values, which declined 1¼ to 1½c, and trade was light, speculators not being disposed to do more than cover shorts, in which they had a small profit. The outside demand was trifling; the offerings were also moderate, sellers not being disposed to put out large lines of shorts at the decline, and the market closed at about the lowest prices of the day. Corn opened weak, and in spite of the reports that some of the crop was damaged in different localities by frost, the pressure to sell was strong, prices declined 3 to 5¼c, the near options showing the most weakness, and the market closed at about the lowest prices. Oats sympathized with corn, and although the receipts were small and shipments large, prices were 1½c lower and closed at about the lowest prices. Pork declined 30c per brl and lard 32½c per 100 lbs, but closed at about 10c over the lowest prices.

Dairy Products—Butter—Steady; demand moderate. Common to fancy creamery, 28 to 36c; fair to good do, 21 to 26c; good to choice dairy, 24 to 26c; fair to good do, 16 to 18c; low grades, 10 to 14c; grease, 8 to 9c; laddo-packed, 14 to 16c. Cheese—Unchanged; common dull; choice in fair request. Choice full-cream cheddars, 10½ to 11c; grades plenty and slow; flats in fair request; stocks fair to good do, 8¾ to 9½c; do off flavor, 5 to 8½c; prime flats, 8 to 9c; fair to good do, 6 to 7c; low grades, 2 to 4c.

CLOSING PRICES.

Rye quiet; 69½c October, 59¾ to 59½c year.

Oats, 31½c to 31¾c November, 31½ to 31¾c year, 32¾ to 33¾c May.

Regular wheat weaker, at $1.02¼ to 1.02¾c September, 96¾c to 94¾c October, 93¼c to 93¾c November, 92¾c to 93¾c year, closing at 94 to 94½c October, 93½c to 93¾c November, 92¾c to 92¾c year.

Winter wheat, $1.02¼ to 1.02¾c September, 97 to 97¼c October, 96¾ to 96¾ November, 90¾ year.

Corn lower, 64¾c September, 63¼ to 63¾c October, 61¼ to 61½c November, 62¾ to 63¼c October, 61¾ to 61¾c November, 52¾ to 53½c year; call not closed at 2:45 p. m.

LIVERPOOL.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Sept. 22.—Grain—Wheat on spot dull and heavy; California 2d per cental higher; red winter, 1d lower, at 8s 5d; No. 2 spring, 8s 9d; No. 3 spring, 8s 2d; cargoes off coast dull and heavy and California 6d lower; to arrive dull and weak, California and red winter 6d lower. Mark Lane and country markets a shade lower and dull. Receipts last week, 567,000 centals, 457,000 being American. Corn for spot and future dull. Provisions—Lard lower at 62s 9d. Long clear sides, 32s 6d. Short clear, 34s 6d. Tallow, 45s. Cheese lower, at 50s. Pork, 102s 6d. Beef, 146s.

DEATH BY RAIL.

Two Trains Telescoped in the New York City Tunnel---Four Persons Killed.

The Train Officials Charged with Gross Negligence.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—A terrible accident occurred this morning in the Fourth avenue tunnel at the Eighty-sixth street station. The New Haven train from Mount Vernon, which was standing on the south-bound side-track in the tunnel, was run into by a Harlem local train. The two rear cars were demolished, and, with the engine of the Harlem train, lie in the tunnel. As near as can be ascertained at present, four persons were killed and nineteen badly injured. The names of the dead and injured thus far have not been ascertained. It is claimed that the accident was the result of gross mismanagement. The locomotive on the main line of the Hudson river road broke its driving-wheel at 123d street and blocked the track in consequence. The New Haven train that arrived near by switched on the south-bound side-track. The 7:53 o'clock train from Mount Vernon was fully thirty-five minutes late when it reached the Eighty-sixth street station. It had made frequent stops, and backed out and in of the tunnel as the engine exploded signal torpedoes on the track. It had hardly been a minute at the Eighty-sixth street station when a rumble was heard behind it. In another instant a crash, and screams of scores of men and women were heard. The engineer of the Harlem local train is injured. Two rear cars of the six composing the New Haven train were telescoped and shattered. It is reported that several of the injured persons have since died.

The police and firemen immediately set to work to rescue the injured, and succeeded in getting out five men and two women. One of the latter expired soon after being extricated. Policeman Slattery discovered a woman in the debris who had fallen into the trench alongside the wreck. She was moaning. He pulled several pieces of timber off her and had her removed to the station room, and she there breathed her last. She was recognized as Mme. Eugenie Aubert, a teacher, residing in Mt. Vernon. The following is the dead-list gathered so far:

Sherman Adamson, of Mt. Vernon.
Frederick Stein, of New Rochelle.
Miss J. Smith, school teacher, of this city.
Eugene Aubert, school teacher, of Mt. Vernon.

The list of the injured is as follows:

Herald Meiks, New Jersey, hurt in the face and left knee.
Thomas Logan, Mt. Vernon, bruises on face.
H. C. Houghton, of 267 West Forty-fifth street, scalp wound.
Houghton, Jr., his son, ankle broken.
Aaron Holden, engineer.
John Sogar, Mt. Vernon.
Mr. Stein, New Rochelle.
Godfrey N. Stein, brewer, of Mt. Vernon.
Lizzie Cammeline, residence unknown, both legs cut off.
William Howe, Mt. Vernon.
James Harper, Mt. Vernon.
Alonzo Bray, Mt. Vernon.
The two Misses Matthews, New Rochelle.
Herman Abrams, New Rochelle.

Mr. Elkington, mining editor of The Commercial World, says: "I was sitting in the car of the Harlem train which was next to the engine. As we were nearing the Eighty-sixth street station in the tunnel, I noticed that some jumped from the train. I then looked ahead and saw the train standing in front of us. Almost instantly the crash came. No red light could be seen on the rear of the train. There was the most intense excitement among the passengers. Between hissing steam, screams of women, and the darkness of the tunnel, the scene was frightful. I struck a match and saw a woman lying among the debris. She was taken out, and I found that her left foot was severed below the knee. Another gentleman was severely injured in the back. I should suppose about seven were badly injured and from ten to fourteen were hurt but able to leave for their homes. One of the incoming trains was stopped, and the passengers were transferred to it and brought to the Grand Central depot. The employes of the Harlem train behaved with coolness, and did their utmost for the wounded. Owing to the total darkness in the tunnel, it was impossible for me to get a clear idea of what did occur. The escaping steam soon filled the tunnel, and this, with the darkness, only added to the horror of the scene. Shrieks and screams were heard from within the tunnel, but the space was so limited that very little could be done in the confusion to aid the victims of the disaster."

Word was sent to the nearest police station and ambulances were taken to the place, but so contracted was the space where the accident occurred, that it was difficult for those who went to the rescue to work with any rapidity. The firemen were also called out and assisted in clearing away the wreck, so as to remove the dead, dying, and injured. The engineer of the Harlem train has been placed under arrest on a charge of criminal carelessness.

An investigation will be necessary to prove whether the engineer had received a signal that the track which he supposed was clear was occupied or not. Railway officials who were on the New Haven train coming behind the Woodlawn rapid transit train, and who were detained two hours, were at a loss to account for the cause of the collision, and consider that it was carelessness on the part of some person, without being able to say where the blame should be placed. M. Mathews, whose daughters were injured, is a United States inspector of steam boilers. He was in the smoking car and escaped injury.

A Scarcity of Money.

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—There is extreme tightness of money here at present, and the banks are increasing rates both on call loans and to commercial customers. The effect is very injurious upon the local stock market, and considerable shrinkage in prices of all securities has taken place. The rise in discounts and rates on call loans within a week has been from 1½ to 2 per cent. The cause is attributed to the great activity in commerce and manufactures, as well as to the outlay upon railways in the Dominion, which are being constructed in all directions with remarkable speed. So far no disasters have occurred by a fall in stocks, although never before have such loads been carried on margin as at present. There are a good many aching hearts, however, produced by the situation. The Canadian banks called in $12,000,000 last month from Chicago and New York, and this month the amount required will be still more. The sum employed in the United States is now about $7,000,000 less than in the corresponding period last year, although rates in the states are very high. The demand in Canada is still increasing from day to day. The banks refused call loans except at exorbitant rates yesterday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The speculative centers report a brisk demand for money. The Wall street rate is 8 per cent.; in Chicago good paper is reported at 7 per cent., and call loans command 6. The stringency at Montreal has caused a shrinkage in the market value of local securities, and the Canadian banks are calling in about $2,000,000 per month from their New York and Chicago branches.

Secretary Folger's Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—Secretary Folger said this morning that he really did not know when he would resign his office of secretary of the treasury, but it is generally thought that he will tender his resignation to take effect after the New York elections. Intimate friends of Assistant Secretary John C. New state positively that he will succeed to the treasury portfolio. They claim that when Mr. New accepted the position as assistant secretary he was informed that there was every probability that Folger would be the next governor of New York, and, in that event, New should succeed him as head of the treasury department.

The Hoffman Scandal.

Yesterday Largely Devoted to Legal Arguments and Rulings.

The Baby in the Case Ill and its Mother Unable to Appear.

LINCOLN, Ill., Sept. 23.—At the opening of the Hoffman investigation yesterday morning, the reading of Zetta Robinson's testimony was concluded. The prosecution waived all its objection to the rulings of the lower court. Copies of letters addressed by Hoffman to Zetta, and made part of the evidence of the former trial, were then read. The letters were addressed "Little Girl," and concluded with requests to pray for the sender, otherwise "Jim." The gravity of the committee was disturbed by the reading of the letters, particularly where Jim expressed his habit of praying for his little girl, and stated they would get their reward hereafter if not here. The alleged confessional note of Hoffman, acknowledging the parentage of Zetta's unborn child, and promising to provide for her support, was also read. A paper containing a lock of hair Zetta said she cut from Hoffman's flowing locks for their boy was produced as part of the testimony. Dr. Davies then presented the objections of the defense to the ruling of Elder McElroy admitting the letters, claiming that no evidence connecting them with Hoffman had been produced. After a tedious discussion between opposing counsel Chairman Webster announced that he would sustain the ruling of the lower court and allow the letters to go before the committee to judge of their worth. Dr. Davies then raised another point on Elder McElroy's ruling that Zetta need not answer questions whether she had Dr. Townsend, who attended her at Springfield, or other parties, that Hoffman was not the child's father, and similar questions. The question was asked, Davis said, for the purpose of impeaching the testimony of the witness by showing that Zetta had stated that another person was the child's father.

Half an hour was taken up at the opening of the afternoon session looking for the life-and-death letter of Hoffman which was alleged to have mysteriously disappeared. It was found in an inner pocket of Secretary Davidson's coat, and the fears of the prosecution were set at rest. Prosecutor Hawes then defended the rulings of Elder McElroy on the questions raised at the morning session, claiming that the questions were irrelevant, and quoting liberally in support of his position. In reply, Dr. Davies quoted from the same authorities. Chairman Webster took up the questions in issue seriatim. He sustained the rulings of Elder McElroy on all subjects except only on the general ground that the questions were irrelevant and not definite enough. The most vital decision, and the one for which the defense had fought tooth by tooth, was in their favor. It overruled McElroy's refusal to allow Zetta to be questioned regarding statements made to Dr. Townsend, and gave the defense permission to recall her to the witness stand to answer the question. Another reversal asked by the defense was on a question addressed to Zetta Robinson, asking why she declined to answer a question relating to the failure to speak concerning the written agreement for the support of the child. Chairman Webster deferred decision on the subject, as also on McElroy's excusing Zetta from stating whether she was acquainted or not with Hoffman's handwriting.

At the evening session Chairman Webster gave decisions sustaining Elder McElroy's ruling that Zetta Robinson need not state whether she was acquainted with Hoffman's handwriting or not, and that she need not give reasons for declining to testify concerning her unwillingness to state why she would not say whether the agreement for the support of the child was in writing or not. The defense called for Zetta Robinson, but the prosecution said the hour was late and the baby was not well. For the baby's sake, Dr. Davies said they would defer calling Zetta till morning.

BATTLE OF THE COWBOYS.

Disputes Over Mixed Cattle Settled by a Duel Between Twelve Men—Four Killed.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 22.—Particulars of a twelve-sided duel between cowboys has just reached here. George Howard, owner of a herd of 3,000 cattle, and John Keeley, owner of a herd of 4,000, were driving in company from Arizona east, north of Trinidad, on the plains. The two herds were to separate, Howard to follow the Santa Fe trail to Kansas City and Keeley to drive north to Denver. On the route accidental exchanges had been made, and Howard insisted on having his stock out, but was unwilling to deliver Keeley's, and it was finally agreed to settle the matter by a battle between six picked men of each party. Accordingly twelve men ranged themselves on horseback, the two sides fifty feet apart, and at a signal from their employers, the fight was to begin. At the first fire four men were instantly killed. George Lester, of Keeley's party, was shot through the breast. One of Howard's men fell with a ball through his head, and two others of the same party were shot through the heart. Struck with dismay the Howard party, with the exception of their employer, fled to their camp. Keeley then rode up to Howard and proposed they fight it out. Howard declined, saying he understood the matter to be settled, according to the terms of the battle, made beforehand. This settled the matter, an equitable change of the mixed cattle was then made, the dead were buried by the other men of both herds, and the drovers and those in charge separated for their different routes.

Base Ball.

The Cleveland nine beat the Chicago club by 15 to 6. Troy defeated Boston by 7 to 3, and Buffalo was victorious over Detroit by 4 to 1.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—At a special meeting of the National base-ball league, held in this city the registrations of the Troy and Worcester clubs were accepted, and it was agreed to admit the Metropolitans, of New York, and the Philadelphia nine. After a discussion in regard to the last three games of the series between Chicago and Buffalo, it was decided that the clubs should play together in New York or Philadelphia in addition to their own cities.

Proposing an Irish Exposition.

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—E. Dwyer Gray has written Mayor Dawson regarding the development of Irish manufactures. He advises an exhibition in 1883, and the formation of an association to push the sale of Irish manufactures. He also advocates an Irish exhibition in the United States, and suggests that the United States should modify its tariff in favor of Irish productions.

Congressional Nominations.

The congressional nominations made yesterday by the Democrats included Gen. H. W. Slocum for New York at large, S. J. Wallace for Colorado, and J. L. Ticknor and M. Y. Johnson for the full term and vacancy in the Sixth Illinois district. M. Churchill having declined the Republican nomination in the Sixteenth district of Ohio, A. B. Clark was selected by the campaign committee.

Unworthy Influence.

Many persons are prejudiced against proprietary medicines. They do not know why. Many narrow-minded doctors condemn them without knowing or caring to know in the least about them—solely through principle and self-interest. These are mostly young and inexperienced in practice. "Prejudice is strong where the judgment is weak." Many physicians, with better and more liberal ideas and education, endorse those remedies which they find most efficacious for the diseases for which they are recommended. One of these, strongly endorsed, and coming into popular use, for the Liver and Dyspepsia, is ZOPESA. 8 oz. bottles 75c, 6 dr. 10c. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

FOLGER AND ROBERTSON.

Cursed by Both Republican Factions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—There is a general conviction here that Collector Robertson has sat down between two stools on the floor. It has been gall and wormwood to the Stalwarts that he should retain the New York custom house, but the president's sense of propriety would not allow him to remove Robertson pending the contest between the Stalwarts and Halfbreeds for supremacy. He was conscious that such removal would not be politic. Now both parties are angry with Robertson, for he did not go to Saratoga. Further than this, the featherheads are angry because his absence enabled "Steve" French to temporarily reinforce the Stalwarts on the state committee, and the Stalwarts are angry because of the fact that Westchester elected Cornell delegates. They see evidence of Robertson's treachery, as it is called, and, worse than all, Robertson has exposed the use of a forged proxy by one of the president's closest political and personal friends. The candidature of Robertson's superior officer as a representative of the administration put him between the devil and deep sea, and his efforts to avoid both have resulted as usual. All might have been forgiven him by the administration people had he kept still and not repudiated French's proxy, thereby bringing on them the obloquy of using forgery as a political device. If the president shows any reluctance in getting rid of Robertson, his friends will bring a heavy pressure to bear on him to work his courage up to the sticking-point. It may be deemed best to wait till after the election, but the Stalwarts are now jubilant, and what they have had pleases them so much that they are calling loudly for more. Secretary Folger does not say when he will resign, but the administration people are feeling some alarm lest he should hold on till after election. It will be regarded as very indecent of him not to take himself out of the treasury, now that the nomination has been procured for him. The treasury department will never be a reliable Republican machine until Judge Folger retires.

THE STAR-ROUTE MEN.

Ben Butler Engaged to Defend the Dorseys in the Next Trial.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—It is said that General Benjamin F. Butler has been retained to defend the Dorseys in the next star-route trial. There is still considerable comment respecting the disappearance of ex-Senator Spencer when wanted as a witness for the prosecution in the recent trial. As one of the government directors of the Union Pacific railroad it is generally understood that he represents the interior department, but Secretary Teller says there has been no complaint filed against Mr. Spencer and until there is his department has nothing of which to accuse him. It is said in behalf of Mr. Spencer that he had been a very important factor in getting up evidence and giving information on which the government based its prosecution, and thought for this service voluntarily and cheerfully rendered and without pay he should have been exempt from summons as a witness. The prosecution look forward with hopes of complete success at the next trial. Senator Jones, of Nevada, expressed the opinion yesterday that at the next trial the chief conspirators would be convicted. He said the administration is thoroughly in earnest, and will not relax the determination to convict.

RAILWAY ENGINEERS.

Threatened Strike by All the Brotherhood West of the Mississippi River.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—The locomotive engineers of the Gould railroads west of the Mississippi river, who were in session here a few days ago, have waited upon Colonel Talmage, the general manager of transportation, with a petition asking the redress of several grievances. One of these demands is that they shall be paid on the per diem basis, instead of according to the mileage run, as heretofore. Mr. Talmage promised to reply in writing.

The committee of engineers are holding a secret meeting to-day, and it is understood that Mr. Arthur, the head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has been telegraphed to come here. The men say that if their demands are not complied with they will strike, in which case, they assert, all the engineers west of the Mississippi river, excepting those on the Wabash road, and enough to run mail trains on the other roads, will go out.

Vermont's Official Vote.

MONTPELIER, Sept. 23.—The official return of the vote of the state, just completed at the office of the secretary of state, is follows: For governor, G. L. Barstow, 35,839; Geo. E. Eaton, 11,468; C. C. Martin, 1,536; scattering, 8; majority for Barstow, 19,839. For congress—First district, John W. Stewart, 15,668; L. W. Reddington, 6,000; C. W. H. Kidder, 867; Chas. H. Joyce 45; scattering, 8; majority for Stewart, 8,710. Second district, Luke Poland, 12,795; Geo. L. Fletcher, 6,348; W. W. Grout, 4,598; R. D. Dunber, 398; W. P. Dillingham, 358; James M. Tyler, 221; Jonathan I. Edwards, 48; scattering, 48; majority for Poland, 790. The house of representatives has 185 Republicans, 49 Democrats, 1 Greenbacker and 1 Independent. The senate has 28 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

Egyptian News.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The ruffianly conduct of residents of the Arab quarter of Cairo brought out an order for a demonstration to-day by the British household cavalry. Three princes who last May signed a petition for the deposition of the khedive called at the palace in Alexandria, and were ordered to leave at once. All rebel officers at Ramleh below the rank of colonel have been released. The English have abandoned the works erected at Port Said. Damietta has surrendered, and General Wood will see that it is completely evacuated. Property in Alexandria valued at £1,000,000 will be confiscated to indemnify sufferers by the massacre.

An Arkansas Editor Killed.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 23.—At Hot Springs, Charles Mathews, editor of The Hornet, was shot four times and killed in an affray with Col. S. W. Fordyce, vice-president of the St. Louis & Texas narrow gauge railroad, and Col. Rugg, one of the proprietors of the Arlington hotel. It is not known whether Fordyce or Rugg fired the fatal shot. The trouble grew out of a bitter newspaper controversy over local affairs. Fordyce returned to Hot Springs Tuesday evening, after a trip along the line of the railroad.

On Condition.

SARATOGA, Sept. 23.—In the Unitarian conference the announcement was made that J. H. Wade, of Cleveland, offers to give to the Wade Theological school $350,000 if the committee on endowment will raise $150,000, and he will give half of $100,000 more.

An Insane Girl's Deed.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.—An insane daughter of James Cleveland poisoned six members of the family by putting strychnine in the coffee. The father is already dead, and one of the daughters cannot recover.

Oklahoma Payne Released.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—A dispatch from Fort Smith, Ark., says Captain Payne and his followers, who were brought here by Lieutenant Taylor, of the 9th cavalry, have been released by the United States court.

USEFUL HINTS.

DANDRUFF.—The annoyance from dandruff can be prevented by dampening the scalp three or four times a week with sulphur water, made by putting one-half of an ounce of flour of sulphur into a pint of water, shaking occasionally for two days; then pour off into a clean bottle.

REMEDY FOR BALDNESS.—Glycerine, four ounces; tannin, one drachm; tincture of cantharides, two drachms; oil of capsicum, ten drops. Apply to the bald spots night and morning.

TOOTH POWDER.—Prepared chalk, four ounces; orris root (powdered), two ounces; green myrrh (powdered), one-quarter of an ounce; oil of cinnamon, twenty drops.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.—These are best let alone. Shaving only increases the growth and depilatories are dangerous and sometimes disfigure the face. The only sure plan is to spread on a piece of leather equal parts of golbarinm and pitch plaster, lay it on the hair as smoothly as possible; let it remain there three or four minutes, then remove it with the hair, root and branch. This is severe but effective. Kerosene will also remove them. If sore after using rub on sweet oil.

NEW EGG PRESERVATIVE.—On taking the eggs from the nest they are covered over, by means of a bit of wool, with butter in which has been dissolved 2 to 3 per cent. of salicylic acid. Each egg, after receiving this coat, is placed in a box, filled with very fine and absolutely dry sawdust. If care be taken that the eggs do not touch each other, and that they be perfectly covered with the sawdust, they will keep fresh for several months—perhaps a year.

HOUSE PAINTING.—This should be done early in winter or spring, when it is cold and no dust flying. To mix paints for different coats: Outside—1st, 2d and 3d coats, mix the lead to proper consistency with boiled oil, allowing time between to dry hard. Inside—1st coat, mix lead and paint in mixture one-half boiled oil, one-half turpentine; 2d, one-fourth oil, three-fourths turpentine; 3d, mostly turpentine with a little oil to hold color. No dryer required. Inside paint must have light.

BROOMS.—It is not economy to have too few brooms; one for the sleeping-room upstairs, one for parlor and sitting-room and one for the kitchen are not too many. As they are worn they may be passed down a grade at a time, the new one always going to the parlor. If the new broom is allowed to stand in cold water for twelve hours, afterward thoroughly drying it, it will last much longer. A broom should never be allowed to stand on its brush, as it makes it permanently one-sided and ill-shapen. Hang it up by a loop in the handle.

A NEW WRINKLE IN VENTILATION.—A practical educator, writing to the New England Journal of Education, says: "I know of no better mode of ventilating old buildings than the simple, inexpensive one of fitting a board tightly across the window, some eight or ten inches wide and two or three inches from the sash, on the inside. The lower sash is then raised without causing a draught of air upon the scholars while the pure air is entering at the bottom and middle of the window. I have seen this tried successfully with every window of a school-room—eight in all—thus raised, to a greater or less extent, through every session, and during the entire winter season, without a single scholar taking cold therefrom. The room was 28x32x15 and the best ventilated I ever entered while a school was in session."

A Dangerous Remedy.

The extensive use into which bromide of potassium has come renders the assertion of Herr Maschke, a well-known German chemist, of great importance. He says that this bromide is of remarkably sedative quality, is largely contaminated with lead, adding that the samples he tested could not be reduced to a clear liquid without the addition of an acid. Lead-poisoning is a dire alternative for nervousness or sleeplessness.

Special Cars.

Two European ladies enjoy the distinction of a railway carriage of their very own. One is the Baroness Rothschild, who has a perfect boudoir on wheels, in which she can enjoy the comforts of home while flying at express speed; the other is Mrs. J. W. Mackay, who, according to a Paris paper, has a carriage which is like a palace in its fairy appointments and decorations, costing $30,000, beside an annual tax of $2,000 for keeping it in running order, and a large additional charge for the cost of transportation.

TO THINK we are are able is almost to be so; to determine upon attainment is frequently attainment itself. Thus earnest resolution has often seemed to have about it almost a savor of omnipotence.—Samuel Smiles.

THE NARROW PREJUDICE—Which a few people hold against a patent medicine only because its formula isn't written in latin, which they can't read, is narrow-minded, and not in keeping with the progress of the age. ZOPESA will cure every case of Dyspepsia and Biliousness if the directions are followed. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

A remedy for Indigestion, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Weakness, Fever, Ague, etc., COLDEN'S LIQUID BEEF AND TONIC INVIGORATOR.

A Typical Chicago Rag-Picker.

In the course of a tour among the very few who have been detained in the city by a mild rush of trade, a Tribune representative was given some inside history into a traffic of which little is known. Among the genial gentlemen encountered was one on Washington street who long has engaged in the business, and who, if he has not yet received it, should be awarded the medal for truthfulness among his kind. He has been quite successful in his business, and when he is heard for any length of time on the subject of his trade the auditor is not puzzled to account for his success.

According to the gentleman he is of Polish origin with a suggestion of Hebrew somewhere in his blood, he couldn't tell where exactly, but he had been assured that nobility figured largely in the make-up of his ancestors. He had left a pleasant but not agreeable home early in life and had emigrated to America determined to try his fortunes in a new land. His relatives soon learned that he was in New York, and they beseeched him to return home. He persisted, however, in wandering from his native heath, and about ten years ago he settled in Chicago, and without money or friends entered upon a career of which he was proud. He began operations as a rag-picker, he said, shaving from early morn until late at night through the highways and byways, principally byways, picking up everything that was of the slightest value in the shape of papers, rags and bottles. In the course of five years he had saved enough money to establish himself in the jobbing business, and he surrendered his route on the South Side to a less fortunate competitor. During these five years he had experiences, several of which he related that may not tax the credulity of the readers of the Tribune, but which the scribe was not altogether willing to swallow. He said that early one morning he was strolling as usual through the alley between Wabash Avenue and State, announcing his business in that peculiar manner that cannot easily be expressed in print, when his attention was suddenly attracted by a small pile of paper and offal near a stable-door. As was his wont he began putting the paper in the bag which he carried upon his shoulder. While thus engaged he discovered a peculiar seal upon a piece of paper that was folded much more symmetrically than any others of the pile. He knew nothing of the English language, but something told him that the paper was of more than ordinary value, and he concluded to save it out of the bag. He put it in his pocket, and it was not long before he forgot it. A few months later, as he was leaving his house on Fourteenth Street near Indiana Avenue, he was accosted by a respectably dressed man, who inquired of him where he picked rags. He informed him of his route, whereupon the man asked him if he had found a nice-looking paper with a red piece of wax upon it. At first he said he had not. Then he happened to think of the paper found near the stable, and he said he had found such a paper. Much rejoiced, the man said he would pay him well for the return of the same, but on further reflection he recalled the fact that on the previous day he had sold the old coat which he had worn at the time he found the paper along with a lot of old rags, many of which were in a much better state of preservation than the coat, to a State Street dealer. They went to the latter's shop immediately in search of the old coat, and had the good fortune to find it among a bag of rags that was being weighed preparatory to turning over to another dealer. Upon searching the pockets the paper was found. He could not remember exactly the importance of the paper, but he knew that it was a deed involving many thousands of dollars, and which if not found would have caused an interminable lawsuit. He was readily satisfied of the value of the paper when the man who was in search of it, and who said he was a lawyer, gave him a check for $1,000. At that time, he said, he would have been as well satisfied with ten dollars.

The same summer that this dealer in worthless articles had the above experience, he said, he found a portion of a linen shirt which had evidently been kicked around a stable for some time and then thrown into the alley, in which he found a diamond stud that a friend of his appraised at $2,200. After advertising it several times and securing no owner he disposed of the jewel for $2,000.—Chicago Tribune.

A Few Words About Clams.

The clam season, like the excursion season, is now at its height. From 150,000 to 200,000 clams are now sold in the Philadelphia market daily. Large as these figures appear, it is said that in New York City ten clams are sold to one here. Here the season ends when the oyster season begins, but in New York they are as much in demand in the fall and winter as in the other seasons. Dealers along Delaware avenue say that they have little or no sale for clams in the winter, while in New York they command a high price.

The clam is indigenous to the Atlantic coast from Cape May to Tuckerton, and in the Chesapeake Bay to Cherrystone, Back River and Chincoteague. Like their sister mollusk, the oyster, they are divided up into several varieties or grades. The coarsest is the mud clam or blue nose, which is dug out of the mud with tongs. Choicer ones are called sand clams, which are caught by men wading in shallow water and "feeling" them with their feet. The very best is the sod clam, which comes from Chincoteague. They are considered bigger, better, fatter and more tender than any of the hard-shell species. A "very pretty little clam," about half the size of those described, comes from Little Neck, in Chesapeake Bay. They are considered the choicest for "planting." They, on this account, command a higher price.

Soft-shell clams, the most delicate of their species, are exclusively an Eastern production. They are not inquired after in this section, and, owing to their soft shell, cannot be transported this distance. The shells are different from others, being longer, and the meat is said to be more delicate eating. Boston and other Eastern people consider them a great luxury. In the East River, New York, clams are gathered in deep water with rakes.

Clams are prepared for eating in various forms. Raw, the colored people are their greatest patrons. Made into soup, with potatoes, dough-balls, and occasionally flavored with onions, they form an attractive dish, and in this way they are more generally prepared. Clam chowder is a well-known restaurant dish. In their baked and roasted forms they are the most palatable. Indigestible as they are, prepared in any way, pickled clams may be said to assimilate about as quickly as a piece of well-hammered sole leather.—Philadelphia Press.

—A boy of six and a girl of two, at Ballardville, Neb., are mated for marriage by their parents, who have signed an agreement that the wedding shall occur in 1897.—Denver Tribune.

SPECIFICATIONS for grading that portion of Terrace street, between Ravine and Washington streets, in the First Ward.

FIRST. Said Terrace street is to be graded its full width, from Ravine street to Washington street, in conformity with the grade of said street, fixed in the office of the City Engineer, May 8th, 1871, and adopted and established by the Common Council, May 21, 1871.

SECOND. The side walks of said street are to be fourteen (14) feet wide, and they are to be graded in conformity with the grade of the center line of said street, modified by the grades of the sidewalks of the streets crossing said Terrace street within the limits above specified, so that the side walks of said street, and the sidewalks of streets crossing the same, within the limits herein specified, may properly conjoin. The inner margins of the sidewalks of said street are to be so graded as to be uniformly four (4) inches below their outer margins, the slope between their outer and inner margins being uniform.

THIRD. The side drains are to be located next adjacent to the sidewalks, the inner margins of the sidewalks and the outer margins of the drains forming one and the same line the bottoms of the side drains on a line eighteen (18) inches in from and parallel to the inner margins of the side walks are to be uniformly fifteen (15) inches below the sidewalks at their inner margins, and is to be on uniform slope from the top of the sidewalks as graded at their inner margins to the bottoms of the side drains, graded as above designated.

FOURTH. The street proper, or road-bed, shall be graded so as to crown uniformly in the arc of a circle from the bottoms of the side drains to the grade of the street at its center line.

FIFTH. The earth excavated in grading said street within the limits above specified, shall be placed in the required embankments, and shall be measured and paid for in excavation only. If there is any excess of earth excavated in grading said street, within the limits above specified, over and above what is required to make the embankments within said limits, or if there is not sufficient earth excavated in grading said street, within said limits, to make the embankments required in said limits; then in the first case such excess of earth, not required in embankments, shall be removed from said street by the contractor and deposited elsewhere; and in the second case the contractor shall procure elsewhere such amount of earth as may be required in embankment, over and above that furnished by excavation in grading said street within the limits herein specified; and there shall be no extra charge made or allowed from the removal from said street of such excess of earth, or for procuring elsewhere such lack of earth, as the case may be; but the price paid per cubic yard for excavation in grading said street shall cover the whole cost thereof; provided, however, that if there is more earth required in embankment than is furnished by excavation in grading said street within said limits, then the contractor, for such earth procured elsewhere to complete the embankments, shall receive the same price per cubic yard of earth measured in excavation, as he receives per cubic yard of earth excavated in said street and no more.

SIXTH. The work shall be done under the supervision of, and in a manner satisfactory to the City Engineer, and as he shall direct, and it shall be completed within such time as may be specified in the contract.

SEVENTH. After the grading of such street shall have been completed, it shall be kept in good condition by the contractor for a reasonable time, that the Aldermen of the First ward may take notice in the personal acceptance of the same.

EIGHTH. All proposals to be sealed, and to state the price per cubic yard at which the work will be done, and to be addressed to the City Clerk.

EDWARD RUGER, City Engineer.

Dated September 9, 1882.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that at the regular meeting of the Common Council of the city of Janesville, to be held September 25th, 1882, said council will proceed to act in relation to the work mentioned in the foregoing specifications, all of the above mentioned work to be completed on or before November 1, 1882, and until the time of said meeting of the Council, sealed proposals for the performance of said work will be received by the City Clerk.

Briefiets.

—Glorious autumn weather, but no poetry expected or desired.

—There was quite a heavy frost this morning, the first of the season.

—The decision of Judge Stewart in the Bates-Wilcox suit, places all the costs, which have accumulated to a very large sum on Mr. Wilcox.

—Captain LaGrange was very highly complimented in Milwaukee on the ability and skill with which he commanded his company, the Bower City Rifles.

—A good feature of Mrs. Day's entertainment, Monday night, will be a reading by Prof. A. A. Griffiths, the well-known lecturer, and professor of oratory.

—Col. Britton says that after looking at the military drill in Milwaukee, he would have wagered a thousand dollars to a bad peanut that the Rifles would be awarded first prize.

—The Orpheus club were handsomely entertained at the residence of Mr. S. A. Pond, last night. The hours were pleasantly passed in music, an intermission being taken for refreshments.

—The entertainment to be given by Mrs. Day next Monday night is expected to be superior to ordinary affairs of the kind. Mrs. Day is a very fine reader, and is a great attraction in herself.

—The Galbraith brothers took the first prize for draft horses in the class for mares, at the Chicago horse fair, with their fine mare Musia. They have sold their stallion Glenfruin, a magnificent Clydesdale.

—A new carryall, the finest ever manufactured in Janesville, has just been turned out of Mr. Buchholz's factory, and is the property of Mr. C. W. Jackman. It is a model of that style of conveyance, and is handsomely decorated. Of the many similar vehicles made by Mr. Buchholz this is the best par excellence.

—The man Johnson, charged with bigamy, appeared in the Municipal Court, to-day, for examination, but owing to the absence of witnesses, the case had to be postponed. The examination is now fixed for September 29, the accused being placed under $1,000 bonds, which he failed to furnish.

—Nothing pleases a boy so well as to be able to appear among his school fellows with a new and neat suit of clothes. Parents who contemplate gratifying this natural desire of their sons would do well to call on Foote and Wilcox, the well-known clothiers on West Milwaukee street, who are making a specialty of boys' clothing, and have a splendid assortment on hand.

—A little excitement was created on West Milwaukee street at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, by the antics of a white pony burdened with a fair rider. The pony wanted to run away and did gallop recklessly for a short distance, ignoring the discomfort the fair equestrienne was experiencing. He was brought to a stand still after running a short distance and the crowd were disappointed.

—"Coming events cast their shadows before," and if the sales of Andrews Pearl Baking Powder argue anything, the cake display at the Rock County fair, will be unprecedented in quantity and quality. Mr. Boyd, the agent of C. B. Andrews & Co., proprietors of the Pearl Baking Powder, is determined to have an exhibit that will surpass anything of the kind yet seen, and an emulous spirit is propelling the ladies of Rock county to substantially support his efforts. The prizes offered for the best cakes made of Andrews Pearl Baking Powder are worth competing for.

—The Bower City Rifles were received with an ovation last evening on their return from Milwaukee. The Guards turned out with the Bower City band to welcome and escort them to the armory, and the people also, evinced a great deal of pride in the soldiers who did so well in Milwaukee, and who were so ill recompensed. They returned with a check for $500 the second prize in the recent military tournament, but think, as nearly every one else does, that they should have received the first prize. They deserved the fine reception given them.

—Mr. Frank H. Wright, died at the residence of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, of consumption. Deceased was 23 years of age, and was employed in the Harris Manufacturing company, but had been ill for sometime from the encroachments upon his system, of the insidious disease which yesterday claimed him for its own. His death is deeply regretted by all who knew him, as he was a young man of excellent qualities of head and heart and a most dutiful son. His parents have the condolence of the entire community in their sore bereavement.

—The indications are very propitious for the Rock county fair, which will open on Oct. 3. The management propose to make it the best ever held here, and everything has combined to aid them in their efforts. The farmers barns are ill with grain, and the store houses are full. The exhibition of agricultural implements, with all the newest improvements, of machinery and everything useful and ornamental also, will surpass in number and excellence any previous fair. The amusement attractions are also of a varied and entertaining character, so that one may confidently expect a success hitherto unequaled.

—The base ball season is rapidly nearing its close, and the question of the championship is still one of doubt. Providence and Chicago are still tied for first place, though the defeat of Chicago by Cleveland yesterday has diminished Chicago's chances, as they have only one more game than Providence yet to play. The result of yesterdays games was as follows: Cleveland 15, Chicago 6; Buffalo 4, Detroit 1; Troy 7, Boston 3. Boston and Buffalo are tied for third place with 13 games won each Cleveland fifth Detroit sixth, Troy seventh and Worcester eighth.

Personal.

—Mr J. H. Mueller, of Beloit is in the city to-day.

—The Hon. I. C. Sloan, of Madison, is in the city.

—Mr. Robert Lind, of Rockford, Ills. is in the city to-day.

Judge H. S. Conger, is still indisposed, and will be unable to open court in Jefferson next Monday.

—Mrs. Frank Gray, returned, last evening after an absence of several weeks on an extended eastern trip.

—The Rev. T. W. McLean will preach his farewell sermon at the 10:30 a. m. service in Trinity church to-morrow.

—Miss Mattie McCullagh has returned from New York, where she had been examining new styles in millinery and making extensive purchases.

—Mr. James Mills has returned on a visit from Chicago, where he has been pursuing his medical studies in the railroad hospital there.

—Mrs. M. M. Conant, wife of the superintendent of the Poor house, was quite badly scalded last Tuesday while attending to some culinary duties.

—Mr. J. M. Bostwick has returned, from a business and pleasure trip to New York, Boston and the White Mountains. Mr. Bostwick looks much improved and invigorated, and comes back home with an immense and fine stock of new goods which he is going to sell, for what they are worth.

A Railroad Smash-Up.

A disastrous wreck occurred on the Chicago division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, yesterday morning, at Monroe, Ills. Freight train No. 19, from Chicago, due here at 6 o'clock, being a little behind time, ran off the track at that place. The accident was caused by a misplaced switch, and proved a serious one.

Just before reaching the switch it was discovered that an accident was inevitable, and the engineer, fireman, brakemen and conductor jumped from the train, as the only means of saving themselves. The engine and five cars which composed the train, were thrown off the track and almost completely wrecked. The freight in the cars was scattered over the ground, and a quantity of it destroyed in the smash-up. Mr. Brown the engineer, in jumping injured himself quite seriously, and Mr. L. E. Hill a brakeman was also injured, but slightly.

Another engine and cars, brought up the freight here last evening at 5 o'clock.

"Men must work and women weep,
So runs the world away!"

But they need not weep so much if they use Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," which cures all the painful maladies peculiar to women. Sold by druggists.

A Farewell Testimonial.

A mammoth amateur musical and dramatic entertainment, will be given at the Opera house next Friday night, by the combined talent of Janesville, as a farewell testimonial to Prof. C. G. Titcomb, who will leave that night for St. Paul. The public owe a great deal to Professor Titcomb for his untiring efforts to contribute to their entertainment, and no better opportunity could be afforded to testify their appreciation of his labors in that field. The Orpheus club, who have so often furnished the means of passing a delightful evening owes its existence to Mr. Titcomb, and now that he is about to leave us, the occasion should not be allowed to pass without an expression of thanks. The programme has not yet been arranged, but it will be diversified with vocal and instrumental music dramatic readings and other entertaining features.

REAL ESTATE COLUMN.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.
REAL ESTATE TO EXCHANGE

H. H. BLANCHARD,

The Real Estate Broker of Janesville, deals more extensively in Real Estate than any other Real Estate agent in Southern Wisconsin. He buys, sells, exchanges and rents Real Estate. He has in his list a great number of large and small farms, in Rock Co., some with cheap improvements, and not so well located, and some with valuable improvements and excellently located for sale or exchange. Likewise some timber lots, one near the city.

His city property list is large, comprising some thirty Houses and Lots, with prices ranging from $500 to $5,000. Also a large quantity of Western lands, and a large number of Western improved farms for sale or to exchange.

If you wish to buy, sell or exchange Real Estate, or acquire any information pertaining thereto, call on him at his office and he will gladly and faithfully render any service in his power.

He deals on the square, and guarantees perfect titles on all property sold by him. Office hours 9 to 12 o'clock A. M., 8 to 10 o'clock P. M.

If you place your real estate in my hands to sell, you will not be required to sign a contract containing a 90-day or any other unconscionable provision.
